Invitation from the ICP2016 President

Kazuo Shigemasu

The world of psychology will gather in Yokohama, Japan from July 24 to 29, 2016, for the 31st International Congress of Psychology (ICP), held under the auspices of the International Union of Psychological Science. ICP2016 welcomes researchers and practitioners in all areas of psychology and related disciplines to meet in the dynamic city of Yokohama.

Psychology is an ever-evolving field of science. While many disciplines such as physics, chemistry, and biology study the workings of the natural universe, it is primarily psychology that studies the human mind. Thus, psychology unsurprisingly comprises diverse areas and includes researchers in different areas who employ different terminology and methodology. The ICP, as the largest conference in psychology, provides psychologists not only an unparalleled opportunity to share their most recent findings in their own specializations but also a valuable opportunity to be exposed to current stimulating developments in other related areas.

“Diversity in Harmony” is the theme of our Congress, expressing our hope that psychology will develop further in diverse directions while contributing harmonious solutions to the problems facing contemporary society. Japan reflects diversity and harmony not only by bridging Eastern and Western cultures but also in its unique history, which has experienced the integration of tradition and modernity, the aging and young, and the humanistic and scientific.

This is the third time that the ICP has been held in Asia: the first was in Tokyo in 1972 and the second in Beijing in 2008. The Japanese psychology community appreciates this second opportunity to facilitate the further development of psychology all over the world. The Japanese Psychological Association (JPA), the host of ICP2016, has the full support of the Japanese Union of Psychological Associations (JUPA), comprising 49 associations. In addition, as many as 29 academic associations in psychology and 16 academic associations in related disciplines have already agreed to cosponsor ICP2016.

I hope that all of you will come to Yokohama in 2016 to present your new ideas and research findings and have face-to-face discussions with fellow psychologists from throughout the world. There are other reasons you should visit Yokohama: it is Japan’s second largest city, less than one hour by train from Tokyo, and surrounded by many historic and beautiful sites. If you find time to travel around Japan before or after the Congress, you will be able to appreciate the amazing natural scenery of the Japanese countryside and experience the exciting cultural changes in the big cities, as well as experience Japanese hospitality (omotenashi) everywhere.

I am looking forward to seeing you in Yokohama in 2016.

Kazuo Shigemasu
President, ICP2016
Organizing Committee

Message from the IUPsyS President

Saths Cooper

The International Congress of Psychology has a distinguished history dating back to the first ICP, held in Paris in 1889. Now held every four years, ICP brings together scientists, practitioners, students, and other professionals interested in behavior under the aegis of the International Union of Psychological Science (IUPsyS), which represents over 80 countries and 20 affiliate members. IUPsyS is the voice of international psychology, and ICP is the flagship event in international psychology.

The last ICP, held in Cape Town in July 2012, attracted psychologists from 103 countries, with seven of the 30 parallel sessions comprising invited presentations that represented the cutting-edge of psychological science and its applications across the globe. International Congresses are an unforgettable learning and networking experience for academics, practitioners, and students of psychology and should not be missed. ICP2016 in Yokohama, which borders Tokyo, promises to be an exhilarating event that will certainly affect all of us as we extend the frontiers of psychology to ensure that its benefits are felt in all our societies. You are cordially invited to participate in a stimulating scientific and social program that our Japanese hosts are planning to ensure that this will be a memorable ICP.

I urge you to submit an abstract to present your work at ICP2016, inform your colleagues, and bring your family and friends to an ICP that is set to break all the records in international psychology.

I look forward to meeting you in Yokohama in July 2016.

Saths Cooper

Congress Theme: Diversity in Harmony: Insights from Psychology

Today, diversity in our world can be seen as both problematic and beneficial. For example, there is diversity related to ethnicity and culture and to physical attributes and health. There is also diversity among the various domains of the field of psychology. The term harmony is derived from Greek words meaning “joint, agreement, concord” and “to fit together, to join,” and is most often used in music to indicate different tones that together make a more pleasing or striking sound. This concept of “living together,” of many diverse constituent parts coexisting in accord forms the basis of ICP2016.

General Guidelines

The main theme of ICP2016 is "Diversity in Harmony: Insights from Psychology." There are a wide range of topics on the topic category list, which will allow attendees to receive insights into diverse research fields, methods, and applications. Please see the IMPORTANT DATES shown below and be sure to submit your research before the deadline.*

The presentation formats are oral presentations, poster presentations, and contributed symposia.

- Oral presentations: individual or co-authored paper. The duration of an oral presentation is 15 minutes, including discussion time.
- Poster presentations: individual or co-authored poster. The size of a poster should be no more than 200 cm (height) x 90 cm (width).
- Contributed symposia:
 - Should consist of three to five presentations, plus a discussion on a specific topic
 - Speakers of a symposium should be from at least two different countries in terms of their affiliated universities/institutes
 - Duration of a contributed symposium is 90 minutes

The organizer of a contributed symposium should first submit a proposal in the form of an abstract describing the purpose and structure of the symposium through the ICP2016 registration page (opening on July 1, 2015). The deadline for symposium abstract submission is September 1, 2015. If accepted, the organizer will receive a "symposium key". The organizer must then inform all symposium speakers of the symposium key. Each speaker should then submit an abstract for review using the symposium key through the ICP2016 registration page. The deadline for submission of speakers' abstracts is December 1, 2015. The organizer is responsible for fulfilling the requirements for a symposium as described above.

Submission guidelines

- Word limit for presentation titles is 30 words (in English).
- Word limit for abstracts is 150 words (in English).
- For presentations on empirical studies, data collection and all analyses must be completed prior to submission.
- If English is not the authors' first language, we recommend that the abstract is checked by somebody who is fluent in English prior to submission.
- Abstracts cannot be modified once they have been submitted.

Request from the Scientific Program Committee

- The total number of presentations per participant as a first presenter should be no more than two, including any combination of oral presentations, poster presentations, and symposia.
- We will try to comply with the authors' preferred presentation method (oral or poster), but due to venue capacity, we may advise some authors to change the form of presentation (e.g., from oral to poster).
- People whose abstracts are not accepted and who wish to cancel their attendance will be fully refunded if they directly declare their intention to the ICP2016 office by email within a month after receiving notification.

IMPORTANT DATES for submission of abstracts

- September 1, 2014: Abstract Submission for EARLY REVIEW opens.
- May 1 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time), 2015: Deadline for abstract submission for EARLY REVIEW* (Closed)
- July 1, 2015: Opening for all abstract submissions (and congress registrations)
- September 1 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time), 2015: Deadline for contributed symposium abstracts (symposium proposals)
- December 1 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time), 2015: Deadline for all abstract submissions

* No funding is available from ICP2016.

 Feedback on abstract acceptance for symposium organizers will be sent by October 31, 2015. Feedback on abstract acceptance for oral/poster presenters and symposium speakers will be sent by February 29, 2016. Please note that we cannot accommodate individual scheduling requests.

Guidelines for Invited Speakers

- Keynote/Invited addresses: individual or co-authored paper. The duration of keynote and invited addresses is 40 minutes, including discussion time. Deadline for speakers' abstract submission is December 1, 2015 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time).
- Invited symposia
 - Consists of three to five presentations, plus a discussion on a specific topic
 - Speakers of a symposium should be from at least two different countries in terms of affiliation;
 - Duration of an invited symposium is 120 minutes.

The organizer of an invited symposium first submits an abstract describing the purpose and structure of the symposium through the ICP2016 registration page (opening on July 1, 2015), and receives a "symposium key". The organizer must inform all symposium speakers of the key. Deadline for the symposium abstract submission is September 1, 2015 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time).

Each speaker will then submit each abstract using the key through the ICP2016 registration page. Deadline for speakers' abstract submission is December 1, 2015 (no later than 24:00 Japan Standard Time). The organizer is responsible for fulfilling the requirements for a symposium as described above.

Notes on abstract word limit

- 30 words in English for presentation title;
- 150 words in English for abstract.

To support the next generation of psychologists, we offer an opportunity for young scientists in psychology from various countries to meet and work together on topics of joint interest.

What is the EPP about?

The aims of the EPP are to help emerging psychologists explore the world of psychology and make progress in their research.

Who is eligible to apply for the EPP?

Those who are working on a PhD thesis or are on a postdoctoral fellowship and want to become leading scholars in psychology. We will post an application form on our website before May 1, 2015. Those who are selected will have at least a part of their registration fee or accommodation fee subsidized, so do not miss out.

What do EPs do in the EPP?

We are offering during- and after-congress programs.

During-congress Program

At ICP2016, each participant will present a paper in a symposium. We are also going to offer EPs seminars and meetings such as 'How to succeed in finding a job/obtaining a research grant/publishing a paper', 'Meeting with editors', 'Getting to know the various fields in which psychology is used', and so on.

Post-congress Program

After ICP2016, EPs are welcome to attend activities such as visits to universities/institutes in the vicinity and to interact with Japanese students. EPs are strongly encouraged to keep in touch with other EPs and mentors, which will help their career development.

How to apply to become an EPs

Please read the information on the ICP2016 website.

Congress Venue

Pacifico Yokohama

1-1-1, Minato Mirai, Nishi-ku, Yokohama, Japan

Tel: +81-45-221-2155

<http://www.pacifico.co.jp/english/index.html>

Pacifico Yokohama is one of Japan's most distinguished convention centers. It is located on the waterfront of Yokohama Bay, directly facing the waterside with a great harbor view. It consists of the National Convention Hall, the Conference Center, the Exhibition Hall, and hotels. All buildings are designed in marine and nature motifs such as shapes of waves and wind. People can relax as fresh breezes blow in off the ocean.

Exhibitions

The Exhibition Hall of Pacifico Yokohama will hold a variety of exhibitions, such as psychological literature, experimental equipment, and test materials. Potential exhibitors are requested to contact the ICP2016 office.

Congress Website

Please visit our website (<http://www.icp2016.jp/>) for the latest information on the Congress. All relevant information (registration, abstract submission, poster format, accommodation, travel & sightseeing) is available online.

Congress Language

English (some events will be held in Japanese)

Congress Program and Abstracts

The Congress Program and Abstracts will be available on the website (<http://www.icp2016.jp/>) prior to the Congress. Participants will receive a copy of the Final Program with Congress material on site.

Congress Proceedings

A specially edited volume of the Congress Proceedings will be published as a compilation of selected presentations. Participants can obtain the special congress discount by selecting the Congress proceedings when registering for the Congress.

Letter of Invitation

If you require an invitation letter for attending ICP2016, the organizing committee will provide this letter. Please send a request by e-mail to the organizing committee (info@icp2016.jp) informing them of your full name, affiliation, e-mail address and telephone number.

If you require an invitation letter including information about the presentation title, the organization committee will provide this letter after you have registered for the congress and completed payment of the registration fee. Please send a request by e-mail to the organizing committee (info@icp2016.jp) informing them of your full name and registration ID.

The invitation letter will then be sent by return e-mail.

Certificate of Attendance

A "Certificate of Attendance" will be provided to all participants at the registration desk in PACIFICO Yokohama (Congress Venue).

A "Certificate of Presentation" will be provided upon request after your presentation in the venue.

Visa

All participants entering Japan must have a valid passport. In addition, participants coming from certain countries must have a visa issued by a Japanese embassy/consulate in their country. Please check visa requirements on the website of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Japan (http://www.mofa.go.jp/j_info/visit/visa/index.html). 'Documents from Japan' must be prepared before any visa application is made to a Japanese embassy/consulate. Those documents can be obtained from the Congress Office upon request via email (info@icp2016.jp).

Please note that we are only able to issue required documents for visa application to participants who has completed the registration and full payment of the registration fee (info@icp2016.jp).

Insurance

The Congress fee does not include insurance. Participants should determine their own insurance needs.

Participants with Special Needs

All facilities at Pacifico Yokohama (elevators, slopes, toilets, seating spaces, vending machines, and parking lots) are accessible by wheelchair.

Accommodation

The Japan Travel Bureau (JTB) is officially appointed as the agent for accommodation. Congress participants are assured of a range of quality hotels and other accommodation at reasonable prices, which have been secured by JTB. A list of such accommodation will be available on our website during 2015 and will be constantly updated until the Congress. The website will also recommend some budget hotels that can be booked online. For more information, please visit our website.

Travel

Most airline networks fly to Japan. Tokyo has two convenient international airports (Narita and Haneda) that offer frequent limousine buses and trains to Yokohama. There will also be a Tours and Travel Desk at the Congress to cater to participants' needs.

Currency

Japan uses the Yen (JPY: ¥). Foreign currency may be changed at airports, hotels, and banks. Card withdrawals can also be made at numerous ATMs, although not all ATMs accept foreign cards. Credit cards (Visa, Master, Diners, and Amex) are widely accepted in shops and restaurants.

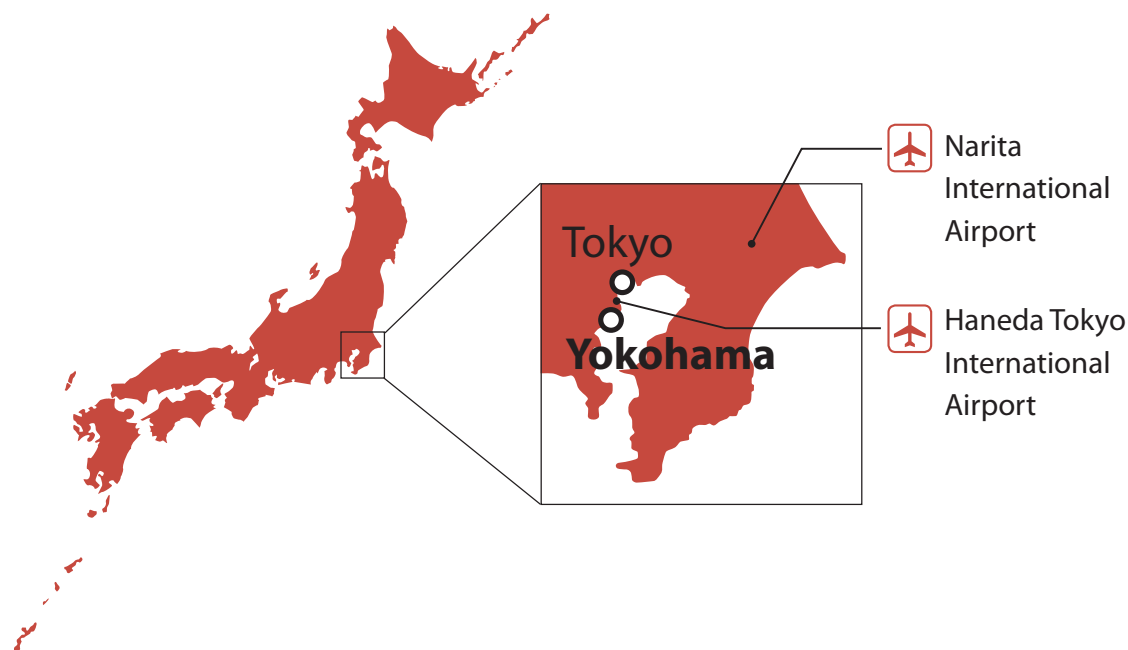

Weather

July is hot and humid in Yokohama. The average high and low temperatures are 29°C/84°F and 22°C/72°F. However, the Congress site is well air conditioned. Also, when it becomes cool in the evening, you can take a bay cruise or enjoy a grand fireworks display.

City of Yokohama

Yokohama is Japan's second largest city and the capital of Kanagawa Prefecture. It is known for its international atmosphere thanks to its unique history as Japan's first "treaty port." Towards the end of the Edo Period (1603-1867), during which Japan maintained a policy of self-isolation, Yokohama's port was one of the first to be opened to foreign trade in 1859.

Yokohama's cityscape is a fusion of lush nature and modern urbanism that provides ample opportunities to experience traditional culture, various cuisines, and diverse entertainment. Yokohama is truly a tourist city full of resources and attractions that offers easy access to Tokyo (only 30 min by train).

Satellite Conferences

Various satellite conferences are being planned around ICP2016. A list of satellite conferences will be available on our website in 2015 and will be constantly updated.

The annual meeting of the Japanese Neuroscience Society (JNS) will be held just before ICP2016 (July 19-22, 2016) in Pacifico Yokohama. Some joint programs are scheduled to be held in both the JNS meeting and ICP2016.

The Organizing Committee will set up a special events program for ICP2016.

Scientific and educational visits and optional tours will offer excellent opportunities for the participants to experience some of Japan's outstanding artistic and historical highlights.
