Yamashita Park

The first seaside park in Japan located right in front of Yokohama Port. The park includes a grass field, a rose garden, the “Little Girl With Red Shoes On” statue, the “Guardian of Water” statue which is a gift from San Diego, a sister city of Yokohama, and the “Kamome no Suihei-san (Seagull Sailor)” song monument, water stairs and a stage. The former cargo and passenger ship Hikawamaru is anchored here..

Silk Museum

A rare museum of silk that demonstrates the process of turning silkworm into fabric. Japanese silk clothing from each period are also displayed. At the Museum Shop, you can find Yokohama scarfs, foods containing silk, and other silk-related products and books.
