

機関誌における利益相反 (Conflict of Interest : COI) の開示について

研究の成果の発表は、著者らの業績になるだけでなく、読者らに大きな影響を与える可能性があります。そのため、著者らは、研究の成果を発表する際には、その成果にバイアスがかかっているかを判断する材料となるよう利益相反 (Conflict of Interest : COI) の開示が求められます。

本学会の機関誌、心理学研究および Japanese Psychological Research においても、昨今の研究倫理を鑑み、投稿時に、利益相反 (Conflict of Interest : COI) についての記述を必ず表記するよう、投稿者に求めることとなりました。

以下、具体的な例を示します。

Disclosure of conflicts of interest in journals

Presentation of research achievement not only becomes the author's academic achievement but also could influence readers significantly. Therefore, authors are expected to disclose any conflicts of interest (COI) to provide information for helping them decide whether the achievement is biased.

Considering recent research ethics, the JPA's journals, Shinrigaku Kenkyu and Japanese Psychological Research, now require the submitters to include a note on COI in their submissions.

Please see the following examples.

- When there is no COI

(Example) The authors have no COI to disclose.

The authors declare no conflicts of interest associated with this manuscript.

The authors have no conflicts of interest directly relevant to the content of this article.

- When there is information that needs to be disclosed

(Example) The primary author receives compensation from [company name].

This research was conducted with a research fund from [company name], which the author belongs to.

This study was funded by [company name].

XXX, YYY, and ZZZ [authors concerned] received honorarium from [company name].

AAA, BBB, and CCC [authors concerned] are employees of [company name].

Even though there is a COI to disclose as of April 2018, this will not prevent the submission from proceeding.
