

The Global Psychology Alliance is delighted to participate in the Vivian G. Prins Scholars at Risk Speaker Series, providing an opportunity to hear from diverse, courageous scholars, each with a powerful and unique story to share. We will learn about their academic work and experiences, as well as about threats to academic freedom and attacks on scholars. Events will take place on April 5, May 3, and June 7. Register for the June 7 talk here: <https://bit.ly/3yeXluf>

Upcoming events

	Fayyaz Baqir, MA (Pakistan), is an expert on participatory development, inclusive governance, and poverty alleviation. He has worked at institutions all over the world, most recently the University of	Human rights as a discourse of hope June 7, 9:00-10:00am ET Many postcolonial nations inherited underdeveloped economies, a fractured citizen-state relationship, and a state structure that emphasized law and order and neglected welfare and human rights. As citizens have sought freedom and prosperity, they have encountered four primary options to confront the power of the state: Submission is based on the perception that defiance is futile; militancy is based on the perception that the citizen-state relationship is zero-sum, with one side's gain being the other side's loss; and agitation assumes that the citizen-state relationship is not zero-sum. Moving from agitation to negotiation is a test of maturity, preparedness, and clarity of leadership, requiring moving from a discourse of fear to hope, ideally resulting in human rights for all citizens. Register here: https://bit.ly/3yeXluf
---	--	--

Ottawa in Canada

Past events

	Shuchi Karim, PhD (Bangladesh), is a researcher at the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Carleton University in Canada, where she studies gender and sexuality, reproductive health rights, transnational feminism, intersectionality, and development issues.	Scholar activism April 5, 1:00-2:00pm ET This event has taken place.
	Yudit Namer, PhD (Turkey), is a clinical psychologist, psychotherapist, and researcher at Bielefeld School of Public Health in Germany, where she studies racism and healthcare for marginalized groups.	Relational justice in/and psychological research May 3, 9:00-10:00am ET This event has taken place

Contact Gabriel Twose, PhD (gtwose@apa.org) in the American Psychological Association's Office of International Affairs for more information.